The Jessup Grain Drill!

Improved and Made by

R. J. RICHARDSON.

THE satisfaction which the Richardson Drill gave in 1862 has induced me to Make Double the Number for 1863.

The principle of the Drill is all that was at first claimed for it. The experience of 1862 enables me to make them just.

Adapted to the Peculiarities of this Soil,

which is very difficult to till.
More than three hundred of these drills were used in this vicinity last spring, and it is universally conceded that the Richardson Drill is

PERFECTLY ACCURATE

In the quantity of Seed Sown per Acre, and that it is easily adjusted to any quantity desired. It is also conceded that the Richardson Drill is the

Lightest Draft and the Easiest for the Team

of any Drill yet introduced.
The drills of 1863 are readily changeable from double to single rank. The points are longer, sharper and heavier than those of 1862, which render them better adapted to the hard and crusty soil of early fall plowing.
Notwithstanding the

Large Advance on Material

we have concluded to offer our drills at the

as in 1862, which is as follows: 9 tooth, $70; 10 tooth, $75; 11 tooth, $80; 12 tooth, $85; 13 tooth, $90.
To those who know the Richardson Drill it is needless to say anything. Of those who do not know them, we would ask an examination, and refer to any one who has used them. Our drills are now

READY FOR EXHIBITION.

They are made at the well known

Rock River Iron Works

of Harris, Guild, Angel & Tyler. The character of their work is well known. I would like everybody to examine these drills.
To those wishing to purchase drills, I would say that I guarantee them

Working to the Entire Satisfaction

of the purchaser, or No Sale.

The Corn Planter Attachment

to the Richardson Drill will plant corn

In Hills Accurately

and any distance apart, from two to five feet, and two or three rows at once.
Mr. W. H. Reed, of La Prairie, used one of the Richardson Twelve Tooth Drills to

Plant Over 50 Acres of Corn

and 100 acres of wheat. He planted three rows of corn at once, and in hills to suit his mind. Any one wishing to know about the planter please inquire of Mr. Reed.

BROTHER of ELIAS HOWE, Jr., the original inventor and patentee of the

and from which all other Sewing Machines derive their vitality, and to whom all others pay a license.
This is the oldest machine in the world (invented in 1845), improved from time to time, and fully perfected in January 1862. Particularly adapted to family use, tailoring and manufacturing purposes, boot and shoe work, carriage trimming, &c., &c. Having the widest range of adaptability to sewing, of any machine produced. Buy the

and have no more dropping of stitches, breaking of needles, no more trouble in sewing the finest fabric or the coarsest satinet, no difficulty in sewing over seams, and a machine that is warranted not to get out of order with proper care.

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE.

OVER THE POST OFFICE.

THERE is nothing so much sought for by the public as a practical Sewing Machine, one that is Simple, Strong & Reliable.

One that will run for years without the annoyance of being out of repair; one that is noiseless and swift in motion; also that makes the stitch as you want it, alike on both sides of the fabric; such are the machines of the

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE COMPANY.

and have all the advantage of a reversible feed motion, which carries the work either way, which, together with making all the four stitches, can be done whilst the machine is in motion; the saving of time in stopping to change the length of stitch, is obviated by this machine.
Any correspondence regarding our Machines will be promptly answered. Enclose a Letter stamp and we will send circular and sample of work by return mail.

DAILY GAZETTE.

Mr. Cram and the Widow Hazel.

BY FRANCIS LEE.

It was a great shame for Mr. Cram to keep that pretty cottage all to himself and his deaf old housekeeper. To think of his wasting his affections on a dog and a tobacco pipe, when the whole field of domestic bliss lay smiling and unentered before him? You needn't tell me it was for any lack of appropriate girls. Why, I could pick out ten without going out of town, either one of whom would do credit to the taste of any man.

To begin with, there was Virginia Lynde. You couldn't find more beautiful curls nor a more graceful figure, if you spent a month constantly gazing out on Broadway. Then as for her qualities; every one knew she was keen and capable. Equal to every emergency from brown bread to a bonnet, and 'qualified to grace any position,' as they say of each new president's wife.—What if her temper was a little quick; we all have some fault, I suppose.

But then, if temper really was everything with Mr. Cram, there was Priscilla Patton. She was as mild as a this year's lamb; not very brilliant of course, your mild ones are not apt to be; and a trifle dumpy, I'll admit; but full of all manner of domestic virtues of the herb tea order, and sure to make a faithful, cheerful companion, for a week or for a lifetime.

'Priscilla Patton is a good girl, but she hasn't quite snap enough,' said Mr. Cram, between his puffs of tobacco.

'Well, then, there was Jenny Jenkins. He certainly couldn't say that of her, full of life and fire as thunder-cloud. As wholesome and inspiriting, too, in a quiet neighborhood where nothing was doing more exciting than a weekly meeting of a ladies' relief society, (for the soldiers, of course; that you should think of questioning that I) to which the men came and scraped lint at evening. She was energetic and efficient, too, Jenny Jenkins was, and could have built a house if she had been put to it, while another was selecting the underpinning.

O, but you know the Jenkins were originally rather low! Respectable, very, but not quite first class, and even in a little town like Meadows, that is considered.

Well, well, if it has come to that I've no more to say. I regard a person with such views quite out of the pale of sympathy, and I've half a mind to leave Mr. Cram to his folly and his dog.

You may think it was none of my business at the start. Perhaps it wasn't and perhaps it was; this in a free country, and if I have a mind to make it my business I have the right, I suppose you know. Besides my sense of fitness and propriety is affronted by the unnatural separation of elements that, united, would so sensibly swell the aggregate of comfort and happiness. ... of these estimable and lifting girls would have been capable of the self-denial involved in giving up the pursuit of her own happiness, which is the third item of our inalienable rights as citizens of the United States, for the purpose of cheering the life of a solitary man who had gradually been getting older and more perversely set in his ways for forty odd years. However, as he had never asked them, I hold he could not know what depths of benevolence and abnegation may exist in the hearts of the unselfish. That the fellow had a latent tenderness in his nature was manifest just in the loving diminutive, 'Dot,' which he has bestowed for a name on his dog. A coarse grained man without a touch of softness would have been sure to call the little creature Tigo or Bose. So I say as I said at first, it was a great shame for Mr. Cram to keep that pretty cottage all to himself and his deaf old housekeeper.

Whatever you may think about it, the Widow Hazel thought as I do, and she good naturedly resolved to take the matter in hand. Widow Hazel was Mrs. Puffer's sister, but you would never have known it. Very evidently Mrs. Puffer had inherited all the heavy, lymphatic family qualities, and Widow Hazel the sprightly and brilliant ones. She had never been in Meadows before to stop, although Mrs. Puffer and the captain had lived there since I can remember—which may be longer or shorter;—but what with marrying young and going south with her husband, with her nursing him through a long sickness, and after that having her pittance of property to look after, it happened naturally she had never spent any time at Meadows. Nancy Phlin said she wouldn't have come there if she could have caught a beau anywhere else; but Nancy Phlin is an ill-natured, gossiping old maid, and I hope you don't let what she says influence you at all.

Thus you see our faces were quite new to Widow Hazel, and hers to us. And, though there were twenty faces prettier than hers in our meeting house the Sunday she made her first appearance there, yet everybody knows that one becomes accustomed to the beauty of familiar faces; just as one can to a chronic sore throat or a perpetual catarrh, till, though always aware of its presence, we do not more than half appreciate what sufferers we are; but let a new pain seize us, though it may be much less in degree, and we cry out at once.

The Widow Hazel was tall, and therefore had an opportunity of showing the quality of her clothing to better advantage as she walked slowly up the aisle behind Mrs. Puffer, than a short person who couldn't use so many yards of rustling black silk by half a dozen. Her cloak, too, was made after a style we never had seen before in Meadows, so of course we all noticed that. Her bonnet was of black crape, but now that is so much worn it isn't nearly so sombre and disconsolate a color; then this fashion of high pokes with a great rosette on top gives even a mourning hat a genteel, jaunty look. She was far from being in the deepest black, her grief having arrived at the stage which found expression in a full, white border and wide white strings of tucked tarlaton. We had a good opportunity to see all this, for Capt. Puffer's was a side pew near the pulpit, so everybody could see her and she could see everybody, without turning anything but the eyes away from the minister. Widow Hazel had showy, black hair, with about an inch of forehead beneath it, a dark skin and a common looking gray eye. But she had full, red lips, fine teeth and a dimple, and those can be made to go a great ways by an adept.

When it came to singing, of course Widow Hazel looked at the singers; everybody does, else where would be the use of their wearing brighter ribbons and more polished dickeys than other persons? Then of course she noticed the head bass singer; anybody would; and that was Mr. Cram, with a forehead just as much too high as hers was too low.

"Yes, that was Mr. Cram, one of our likeliest young men, and its a real pity he hasn't got a good likely wife," said Capt. Puffer, going home from church. The good man, having found the help just meet for him, commiserated every body who had not the like good fortune.

Widow Hazel, taking no notice of the close of the captain's speech, said demurely, "If your young people are so gray haired, I suppose you consider the person who came in with two canes, bent almost double and looking about ninety, right in the prime of life."

"Well, Cram is getting old, that is a fact; all the more pity he isn't married," persisted Capt. Puffer.

Jenny Jenkins had the next meeting of the "ladies relief,"—ladies relief in two ways. Primarily as regards our suffering soldiers, of course, but secondarily as regards our suffering ladies; whose normal kindness of heart and natural love of assembling, thus finds worthy vent. Societies at Jenny Jenkins' were always lively, she threw so much interest and enjoyment over everything, being a girl who never made a common-place remark or performed the most every-day act in a common manner. But on this occasion she was quite overshadowed by Widow Hazel, who before evening had made the acquaintance of every lady present, and was ready to commence on the gentlemen. She made herself so useful and attractive that we were all half in love with her, and entirely willing to be overshadowed. She knew the latest styles in dress goods and millinery, and was equally learned in the newest modes of fitting and trimming, and quite ready to impart her knowledge to us, who were so far in the back-ground that we received the reflection of the Empress Eugenie's glory quite indirectly. Then she had patterns for hospital slippers, and the most desirable fashions for shirts and dressing-gowns, while she knew to a thread how wide the bandages should be torn. In fact, before we hardly knew it, she had constituted herself acting president and full board of directors, simply in right of her superior knowledge.

[Concluded to-morrow.]

COUNTY COURT OF ROCK COUNTY.
In the matter of the estate of William Eccleston, deceased.

ON this 3d day of March, A D 1863, upon reading and filing the petition of Margaret Eccleston, widow of said deceased, stating that he, late of the city of Janesville, in the county of Rock and state of Wisconsin, died intestate on the 20th day of February ult., leaving property in said county, and praying that she may be appointed administratrix of the estate of said deceased, it is ordered that said application be heard before the said court at the office of the Judge thereof, in the city of Janesville, on the first Monday in April next, at 10 o'clock A M; and it is further ordered that notice of said application and hearing be given by publishing a copy of this order for three successive weeks, once in each week, prior to said hearing, in the Janesville Daily Gazette, a newspaper printed and published in said city.
mr3d3w AMOS P. PRICHARD, County Judge.

CIRCUIT COURT FOR ROCK COUNTY.
Wm A Lawrence, Volney Atwood and E H Strong vs John M May.

BY virtue of an execution issued out of the circuit court for the county of Rock in the above entitled action against the goods ... of the said John M May, and to me directed and delivered. I have levied upon and shall sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, at the front door of the post office in the city of Janesville, in said county, on

THE 16th DAY of FEBRUARY, 1863,

at 10 o'clock A M, all the right, title and interest which the said John M May had on the 24th day of November, 1855, or at any time thereafter, in and to the following described real estate, situate, lying and being in the city of Janesville, Rock county, Wisconsin, and described as follows, to wit: lots one, two, seven and eight in block thirty-four in the original plat of the village (now city) of Janesville.—Dated January 3d, 1863. S. J. M. PUTNAM, Sheriff ja3d7w of Rock County.
The above sale is adjourned to the 23d day of March, 1863, at the place and hour of day above mentioned.

STATE OF WISCONSIN.
CIRCUIT COURT FOR JEFFERSON COUNTY.
Calvin Leach against William F Tompkins, Caroline Tompkins, David H Babbitt, William H H Bailey, E L Dimock, George H Williston, Nathan Lyman, John H Webb, Thomas Williams, George B Parker, M B Edson, Charles H Parker, H O Clark, Joel N Budd, Elias J Fenton, Norman J Emmons, Wm P Burroughs, Royal Barnum, Edwin Hyde and Isaac Morley.

WHEREAS a judgment of foreclosure and sale was rendered in the above entitled action on the 11th day of December, 1862, wherein and whereby it was, among other things, adjudged that the defendant, David H Babbit, has a lien upon the mortgaged premises to the amount of four hundred dollars, which must be first paid out of the proceeds of the sale of said premises, and that there is due the plaintiff, for principal and interest on the note and mortgage mentioned in the complaint, the sum of three thousand and one hundred and seventy-eight dollars, besides the costs and disbursements in said action and the expenses of sale herein, and that the mortgaged premises described in the complaint in said action were adjudged to be sold to pay said several amounts; now, therefore, in pursuance and by virtue of said judgment, I, R T Pember, sheriff of Rock county, in the state of Wisconsin, shall offer for sale and sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, on Main street, in front of the Myers House, in the city of Janesville, in said county, on at the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, all the following described mortgaged premises situate, lying and being in the said city of Janesville and county of Rock, and known and distinguished as lot one hundred and ten (110) in Smith, Bailey & Stone's addition to the village (now city) of Janesville as per recorded plat of the same.—Dated January 30th, 1863.

THE 5th DAY of MAY, 1863,

The Jessup Grain Drill!

Improved and Made by

R. J. RICHARDSON.

THE satisfaction which the Richardson Drill gave in 1862 has induced me to Make Double the Number for 1863.

The principle of the Drill is all that was at first claimed for it. The experience of 1862 enables me to make them just which is very difficult to till.

Adapted to the Peculiarities of this Soil,

More than three hundred of these drills were used in this vicinity last spring, and it is universally conceded that the Richardson Drill is in the quantity of Seed Sown per Acre, and that it is easily adjusted to any quantity desired. It is also conceded that the Richardson Drill is the

PERFECTLY ACCURATE

of any Drill yet introduced.

The drills of 1863 are readily changeable from double to single rank. The points are longer, sharper and heavier than those of 1862, which render them better adapted to the hard and crusty soil of early fall plowing. Notwithstanding the

Large Advance on Material

we have concluded to offer our drills at the

as in 1862, which is as follows: 9 tooth, $70; 10 tooth, $75; 11 tooth, $80; 12 tooth, $85; 13 tooth, $90.

To those who know the Richardson Drill it is needless to say anything. Of those who do not know them, we would ask an examination, and refer to any one who has used them. Our drills are now of Harris, Guild, Angel & Tyler. The character of their work is well known. I would like everybody to examine these drills.

READY FOR EXHIBITION.

They are made at the well known

To those wishing to purchase drills, I would say that I guarantee their

Working to the Entire Satisfactio[n]

of the purchaser, or No Sale.

The Corn Planter Attachment

to the Richardson Drill will plant corn

In Hills Accurately

and any distance apart, from two to five feet, and two or three rows at once.

Mr. W. H. Reed, of La Prairie, used one of the Richardson Twelve Tooth Drills to

and 100 acres of wheat. He planted three rows of corn at once, and in hills to suit his mind. Any one wishing to know about the planter please inquire of Mr. Reed.

For more particulars, and to see the drill, call at the Hardware Store of R. J. RICHARDSON,

THE ORIGINAL HOWE SEWING MACHINES

MANUFACTURED BY

A. B. HOWE,

BROTHER of ELIAS HOWE, JR., the original inventor and patentee of the

and from which all other Sewing Machines derive their vitality, and to whom all others pay a license.

This is the oldest machine in the world (invented in 1845), improved from time to time, and fully perfected in January 1862. Particularly adapted to family use, tailoring and manufacturing purposes, boot and shoe work, carriage trimming, &c., &c. Having the widest range of adaptability to sewing, of any machine produced. Buy the

and have no more dropping of stitches, breaking of needles, no more trouble in sewing the finest fabric or the coarsest satinet, no difficulty in sewing over seams, and a machine that is warranted not to get out of order with proper care.

Don't buy a sewing machine until after you have examined this the very

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE.

OVER THE POST OFFICE.

THERE is nothing so much sought for by the public as a practical Sewing Machine, one that is Simple, Strong & Reliable.

One that will run for years without the annoyance of being out of repair; one that is noiseless and swift in motion; also that makes the stitch as you want it, alike on both sides of the fabric; such are the machines of the

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE COMPANY.

and have all the advantage of a reversible feed motion, which carries the work either way, which, together with making all the four stitches, can be done whilst the machine is in motion; the saving of time in stopping to change the length of stitch, is obviated by this machine.

Any correspondence regarding our Machines will be promptly answered. Enclose a Letter Stamp and we will send circular and sample of work by return mail.

DAILY GAZETTE.

Mr. Cram and the Widow Hazel.

BY FRANCIS LEE.

It was a great shame for Mr. Cram to keep that pretty cottage all to himself and his deaf old housekeeper. To think of his wasting his affections on a dog and a tobacco pipe, when the whole field of domestic bliss lay smiling and unentered before him? You needn't tell me it was for any lack of appropriate girls. Why, I could pick out ten without going out of town, either one of whom would do credit to the taste of any man.

To begin with, there was Virginia Lynde. You couldn't find more beautiful curls nor a more graceful figure, if you spent a month constantly gazing out on Broadway. Then as for her qualities; every one knew she was keen and capable. Equal to every emergency from brown bread to a bonnet, and 'qualified to grace any position,' as they say of each new president's wife.—What if her temper was a little quick; we all have some fault, I suppose.

But then, if temper really was everything with Mr. Cram, there was Priscilla Patton. She was as mild as a this year's lamb; not very brilliant of course, your mild ones are not apt to be; and a trifle dumpy, I'll admit; but full of all manner of domestic virtues of the herb tea order, and sure to make a faithful, cheerful companion, for a week or for a lifetime.

'Priscilla Patton is a good girl, but she hasn't quite snap enough,' said Mr. Cram, between his puffs of tobacco.

'Well, then, there was Jenny Jenkins. He certainly couldn't say that of her, full of life and fire as thunder-cloud. As wholesome and inspiriting, too, in a quiet neighborhood where nothing was doing more exciting than a weekly meeting of a ladies' relief society, (for the soldiers, of course; that you should think of questioning that!) to which the men came and scraped lint at evening. She was energetic and efficient, too, Jenny Jenkins was, and could have built a house if she had been put to it, while another was selecting the underpinning.

O, but you know the Jenkins were originally rather low! Respectable, very, but not quite first class, and even in a little town like Meadows, that is considered.

Well, well, if it has come to that I've no more to say. I regard a person with such views quite out of the pale of sympathy, and I've half a mind to leave Mr. Cram to his folly and his dog.

You may think it was none of my business at the start. Perhaps it was'nt and perhaps it was; this in a free country, and if I have a mind to make it my business I have the right, I suppose you know. Besides my sense of fitness and propriety is affronted by the unnatural separation of elements that, united, would so sensibly swell the aggregate of comfort and happiness. [illegible] to say either one of these estimable and fitting girls would have been capable of the self-denial involved in giving up the pursuit of her own happiness, which is the third item of our inalienable rights as citizens of the United States, for the purpose of cheering the life of a solitary man who had gradually been getting older and more perversely set in his ways for forty odd years. However, as he had never asked them, I hold he could not know what depths of benevolence and abnegation may exist in the hearts of the unselfish. That the fellow had a latent tenderness in his nature was manifest just in the loving dimunative, 'Dot,' which he has bestowed for a name on his dog. A coarse grained man without a touch of softness would have been sure to call the little creature Tige or Bose. So I say as I said at first, it was a great shame for Mr. Cram to keep that pretty cottage all to himself and his deaf old housekeeper.

Whatever you may think about it, the Widow Hazel thought as I do, and she good naturedly resolved to take the matter in hand. Widow Hazel was Mrs. Puffer's sister, but you would never have known it. Very evidently Mrs. Puffer had inherited all the heavy, lymphatic family qualities, and Widow Hazel the sprightly and brilliant ones. She had never been in Meadows before to stop, although Mrs. Puffer and the captain had lived there since I can remember—which may be longer or shorter;—but what with marrying young and going south with her husband, with her nursing him through a long sickness, and after that having her pittance of property to look after, it happened naturally she had never spent any time at Meadows. Nancy Phlin said she wouldn't have come there if she could have caught a beau anywhere else; but Nancy Phlin is an ill-natured, gossiping old maid, and I hope you don't let what she says influence you at all.

Thus you see our faces were quite new to Widow Hazel, and hers to us. And, though there were twenty faces prettier than hers in our meeting house the Sunday she made her first appearance there, yet everybody knows that one becomes accustomed to the beauty of familiar faces; just as one can to a chronic sore throat or a perpetual catarrh, till, though always aware of its presence, we do not more than half appreciate what sufferers we are; but let a new pain seize us, though it may be much less in degree, and we cry out at once.

The Widow Hazel was tall, and therefore had an opportunity of showing the quality of her clothing to better advantage as she walked slowly up the aisle behind Mrs. Puffer, than a short person who couldn't use so many yards of rustling black silk by half a dozen. Her cloak, too, was made after a style we never had seen before in Meadows, so of course we all noticed that. Her bonnet was of black crape, but now that is so much worn it isn't nearly so somber and disconsolate a color; then this fashion of high pokes with a great rosette on top gives even a mourning hat a genteel, jaunty look. She was far from being in the deepest black, her grief having arrived at the stage which found expression in a full, white border and wide white strings of tucked tarlaton. We had a good opportunity to see all this, for Capt. Puffer's was a side pew near the pulpit, so everybody could see her and she could see everybody, without turning anything but the eyes away from the minister. Widow Hazel had showy black hair, with about an inch of forehead beneath it, a dark skin and a common looking gray eye. But she had full, red lips, fine teeth and a dimple, and those can be made to go a great ways by an adept.

When it came to singing, of course Widow Hazel looked at the singers; everybody does, else where would be the use of their wearing brighter ribbons and more polished dickeys than other persons? Then of course she noticed the head bass singer; anybody would; and that was Mr. Cram, with a forehead just as much too high as hers was too low.

"Yes, that was Mr. Cram, one of our likeliest young men, and its a real pity he hasn't got a good likely wife," said Capt. Puffer, going home from church. The good man, having found the help just meet for him, commisserated every body who had not the like good fortune.

Widow Hazel, taking no notice of the close of the captain's speech, said demurely, "If your young people are so gray haired, I suppose you consider the person who came in with two canes, bent almost double and looking about ninety, right in the prime of life."

"Well, Cram is getting old, that is a fact; all the more pity he isn't married," persisted Capt. Puffer.

Jenny Jenkins had the next meeting of the "ladies relief,"—ladies relief in two ways. Primarily as regards our suffering soldiers, of course, but secondarily as regards our suffering ladies; whose normal kindness of heart and natural love of assembling, thus finds worthy vent. Societies at Jenny Jenkins' were always lively, she threw so much interest and enjoyment over everything, being a girl who never made a common-place remark or performed the most every-day act in a common manner. But on this occasion she was quite overshadowed by Widow Hazel, who before evening had made the acquaintance of every lady present, and was ready to commence on the gentlemen. She made herself so useful and attractive that we were all half in love with her, and entirely willing to be overshadowed. She knew the latest styles in dress goods and millinery, and was equally learned in the newest modes of fitting and trimming, and quite ready to impart her knowledge to us, who were so far in the back-ground that we received the reflection of the Empress Eugenie's glory quite indirectly. Then she had patterns for hospital slippers, and the most desirable fashions for shirts and dressing-gowns, while she knew to a thread how wide the bandages should be torn. In fact, before we hardly knew it, she had constituted herself acting president and full board of directors, simply in right of her superior knowledge.

COUNTY COURT OF ROCK COUNTY.

In the matter of the estate of William Eccleston, deceased.

ON this 3d day of March, A D 1863, upon reading and filing the petition of Margaret Eccleston, widow of said deceased, stating that he, late of the city of Janesville, in the county of Rock and state of Wisconsin, died intestate on the 20th day of February ult., leaving property in said county, and praying that she may be appointed administratrix of the estate of said deceased, it is ordered that said application be heard before the said court at the office of the judge thereof, in the city of Janesville, on the first Monday in April next, at 10 o'clock A M; and it is further ordered that notice of said application and hearing be given by publishing a copy of this order for three successive weeks, once in each week, prior to said hearing, in the Janesville Daily Gazette, a newspaper printed and published in said city.
mr3d3w AMOS P. PRICHARD, County Judge.

CIRCUIT COURT FOR ROCK COUNTY.

Wm A Lawrence, Volney Atwood and E H Strong vs John M May.

BY virtue of an execution issued out of the circuit court, against the property of Rock in the above entitled [illegible] ments of the said John M May, and to me directed and delivered. I have levied upon and shall sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, at the front door of the post office in the city of Janesville, in said county, on

THE 16th DAY of FEBRUARY, 1863,

at 10 o'clock A M, all the right, title and interest which the said John M May had on the 24th day of November, 1855, or at any time thereafter, in and to the following described real estate, situate, lying and being in the city of Janesville, Rock county, Wisconsin, and described as follows, to wit: lots one, two, seven and eight in block thirty-four in the original plat of the village (now city) of Janesville.—Dated January 3d, 1863. S. J. M. PUTNAM, Sheriff
ja3d7w of Rock County.

The above sale is adjourned to the 2d day of March, 1863, at the place and hour of day above mentioned.

THE CANAL AT VICKSBURG.—The reports from Vicksburg are favorable to the success of the canal or cut-off, across the peninsula in front of that city. An immense amount of work has been done upon it, and it is nearly ready for trial. The canal is a mile and a third in length, sixty feet wide, and excavated to the depth of fifteen feet below the level of the Mississippi. Having reached the quicksand there is little doubt that when the water of the river is turned into the canal it will speedily become the main channel. The rebels have been anticipating its success, and have erected batteries opposite, at a place called Warrenton, which partially command the mouth of the canal. When the gunboats get through it is expected that the first business will be the reduction of these batteries, which will render those on the heights of Vicksburg valueless.

☞ The Milwaukee News is troubled in its spirit about a dreadful secret order for sustaining and perpetuating the Union, which it says is increasing rapidly in this state. While the Knights of the Golden Circle, was the only secret political society in existence, which has for its object the dissolution of the Union and the assassination of those who would preserve it, the News was silent; but now when it suspects the organization of a patriotic association it howls over its lawless and dangerous character. You are either very late in your objections, Mr. News, or else not very sincere.

LEGISLATIVE.—In the Senate on Wednesday bills were introduced making appropriations for the several benevolent institutions of the state, as follows: To the institute for the education of the blind, $14,000; hospital for the insane, $30,000; state reform school, $4,000.

In the Assembly resolutions were offered directing the treasurer to sell the gold in the treasury at not less than fifty per cent. It is rather singular that the gold has not already been disposed of; possibly some are waiting to take it, when Sat. Clark's resolution to distribute it among the members at par will have a greater chance of passage. We do not find anything else in the proceedings worthy of notice.

☞ The Milwaukee News prepares its readers for a democratic defeat in New Hampshire in this way:

It can hardly be expected under such circumstances that the state has been redeemed, but by the grape vine telegraph we shall by degrees learn of large democratic gains.

The gains over the republican majority in 1860 will be in about the same proportion as the enlistments for the war. In New Hampshire, as elsewhere, the republicans volunteer to defend the country, and the democrats (with a few noble exceptions) stay at home to vote against supplies.

☞ The office of Sam. Medary's paper at Columbus was recently broken open and the furniture destroyed by a mob, whereupon his sympathizing friends held a great law and order meeting. At Detroit another democrat, of somewhat darker complexion, was mobbed, but no meeting in favor of law and order was held. Why is it not as necessary and proper to sustain the laws and promote order in Detroit as in Columbus?

☞ Fraser, the man who murdered his family at Buffalo, and then set fire to his house, which consumed their remains, has been heard of wandering through the country adjacent to that city, enquiring his way to his home, evidently insane. The police are searching for him, but as yet unsuccessful.

The nomination of B. E. Todd, a brother-in-law of the President, a brigadier general, was rejected by the senate. His relationship to the President was probably the only merit he possessed.

If "relationship" to some influential personage had been heretofore and should be hereafter desregarded in some other cases, there would a less number of incompetent officers in the service than there now are.

John Van Buren's speech in New York last week was the worst joke on himself he ever perpetrated. He came out as mottled as Dan. Rice's most funny horse. He was for the administration and against it. He was with the republicans and against them. If he knew where he stood, he knew decidedly more about it than his audience.—Milwaukee News.

Mr. Van Burem should have taken the copperhead chute to receive the commendation of the News.

MRS. POTTER.—The Wisconsin of yesterday says—"Mr. Potter passed through Racine with the remains of his wife last night, and she is to be interred at East Troy, on Friday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Staples, of this city, is to preach the funeral discourse. Judge Sloan, and other friends, accompanied Mr. Potter from Washington."

☞ It is believed in California that the French would take possession of Sonora within ninety days.

From Holbrook's United States Mail.

The New Postal Law.

The bill just passed by congress is understood to have been framed to meet the views of the postmaster general in its chief provisions. It makes some important changes in our postal system.

Postage on local or "drop letters" will hereafter be two cents, when not exceeding half an ounce, and an additional rate for each half ounce or fraction of an ounce in all cases to be pre-paid by postage stamps.

The regulations respecting soldiers' letters remain the same as heretofore.

The amendments of the house, establishing a money order system, was rejected in the senate and finally abandoned.

On all mail matter required by law to be pre-paid, and which shall reach its destination unpaid, double the usual rates must be collected on delivery, and insufficient payment is to be wholly disregarded.

The fee for the registration of letters is left optional with the postmaster general; but it is not to exceed twenty cents per letter.

Unsealed circulars, not exceeding three to one address, are to be charged with two cents postage, and in that proportion for a greater number.

NEWSPAPER POSTAGE.

Weekly papers five cents per quarter, semi-weekly ten cents, six times per week thirty cents. At this rate the weight must not exceed four ounces—in each case payable in advance per quarter or per year, either at the mailing or delivery office.

No extra charge is to be made for a card printed or imprest upon a circular or letter envelope or wrapper. Circulars to be prepaid by stamps.

The postmaster general may from time to time provide by order the rates and terms upon which route agents may receive and deliver, at the mail car or steamer, packages of newspapers and periodicals, delivered to them for that purpose, by the publishers or news agents in charge thereof, and not received from nor designed for delivery at any postoffice.

FRANKING.

Postmasters can only frank official letters to other officials—the former license to the smaller classes of offices heretofore enjoyed of franking on their own private business having been abolished, and not to go into effect until the 1st of July next.

COIN FOR FOREIGN LETTERS.

The joint resolution giving the postmaster general authority to collect the postage on unpaid foreign letters in specie was also passed.

The Federl Disaster near Fraklin Tennessee.

A correspondent of the Nashville Union gives the following account of the fight near Franklin Tennessee:

"After advancing four or five miles with some skirmishing, we encamped for night, resuming our advance on Thursday morning, the enemy resisting and falling back from our advance with considerable evidence of disorder. Our troops were in the highest possible spirits, and, up to this time, confident of success. So well did everthing go to all appearances, that a feeling of security overcame their vigilance, and led to the neglect of those precautions which should never be omited. When we reached Thompson's Station, we were suddenly and unexpectedly greeted with the thunder of three batteries from as many commanding heights, while at almost the same instant heavy masses of infantry appeared, as if by magic, on either flank.

"The natural result of this discovery was some confusion, but nevertheless our men showed the most determined courage, and boldly charged one of the rebel batteries. No infantry was seen near this battery until our men approached within a few yards of it, when the rebels rose from behind a fence, and from whence they poured a most deadly fire on our men, first checking and then driving them back, with heavy loss to us and little to themselves. On other parts of the field, however, the rebels lost severely; but, completely surrounded as our forces were by infantry, with three batteries of artillery disgorging their death dealing missiles full upon them, and no reasonable hopes of immediate reinforcements, it was not strange that they yielded to the inexorable logic of events, and most of the 33d Indiana, 86th Indiana, 19th Michigan, 22d Wisconsin regiments, with their commissioned officers, are Van Dorn's prisoners. Our artillery was withdrawn without loss. Reinforcements were sent forward by Gen. Gilbert, but had not time to reach the ground to prevent the disaster. Stragglers continued to arrive until night, and many of the wounded have been brought in to day. The rebels, apparently satisfied with their achievement, fell back to Spring Hill."

[From the Vicksburg Whig, February 19.]

Considerable danger seems to be apprehended by a portion of the community, from the movement of the enemy into the interior of Mississippi, via the Yazoo Pass, but we have heard a number of gentlemen, who profess to be well acquainted with the nature of the water courses that must be navigated, give it as their opinion that but little will be accomplished, except a disturbance, for a short time, of our collecting supplies in the country threatened.

The passage from the Mississippi to Moon Lake is two miles in length; thence on the lake to the mouth of the pass, nine miles; thence through the pass proper to Coldwater river, eighteen miles. The latter is narrow and deep, and some obstructions by falling timber had been made, and the work was progressing. The enemy's boats passed through the pass with their forces, a heavy land force marching on either side, and in advance of the boats. On Sunday morning the land forces reached the Coldwater, and it was expected the boats would arrive during the day. Our forces, engaged in adding to the obstructions, were driven back and compelled to abandon the work, and reached the mouth of the Coldwater on Sunday. The land forces of the enemy are estimated at eight or ten thousand.

We are confident that energetic steps have been taken to provide against the raid in this direction, but knowing the importance of repelling it, and the great disaster it would be to our arms in Mississippi if allowed to be successful, we urge the utmost exertions on the part of our leaders. The water is falling slowly, and the foe may be entrapped, when a sufficient force can bag the whole party.

NEW HAMPSHIRE DEMOCRACY.—"I declare myself a rebel. Slavery is right. It cannot be proved that slavery is a sin. Any physician could disprove this position. The fore-arm of negroes are four inches longer than a white man's. They never sprang from Adam. I am death, also, on ministers. They have preached the negro twenty-five years; but I have not heard them for ten years. No sinners have been converted in my town for ten years. (Cheers.) —Dr. Nat. Batcheldor, of Epping, president of the first congressional district democratic convention.

"We are but little less than one thousand millions in debt. Can the people get along with this debt laid upon them? Will they pay it, or repudiate?"—Ex-Governor Steele, at a democratic convention.

"We will repudiate," was the response of the convention.

Last Night's Report.

CAIRO, March 11.

Special to Chicago Evening Journal.—For some time past liquor dealers at Mound City have been in the habit of enticing convalescent patients into their dens and fleecing them of their wages, also greatly retarding their recovery. A few days since Major Merrill made a descent upon them, capturing about $4,000 worth of various kinds of liquor, and assessing fines to the amount of $300.

The transport New National is taking aboard some very heavy ordnance for service to all below.

Capt. Gregory of the Little Rebel, has been transferred to the tin-clad gunboat Springfield. He is one of the very best fighting men in the Mississippi squadron. Lieut. Pinell, an efficient young officer, takes command of the Little Rebel.

The Gen. Price went below last night. She is now the most powerful ram afloat in the western waters; besides she carries a powerful battery.

We are assured by good authority that nothing important is transpiring below.

The steamer Mary Forsyth has arrived from Memphis, bring Monday evening's papers.

Gen. Hurlbut has issued an order, to take effect to-day, expelling all resigned officers from the lines.

We have news from Vicksburg to the 8th. The rebels come up almost every day with flags of truce, often for the most trivial pretexts. Their object doubtless is to keep posted on our movements. They toll a variety of stories about the Indianola. Some say she is sunk, and others report her all right.

The Vicksburg canal is nearly completed, and will be a complete success. Dredging machines are still at work. The rebels have one gun that can throw shells to the canal. Our men work and watch, and at each puff of smoke from the opposite side get out of the way. No one has yet been hurt. Water has not yet been let into the canal at Lake Providence.

COLDWATER RIVER, Miss., March 1, via Cairo, March 10.

Special to Chicago Times.—The expedition left Moon Lake on Wednesday morning, reaching the end of the Pass yesterday noon, twelve miles in three days and a half. The boats are much broken in the light upper works, but not one damaged in the hull or machinery.

The most difficult portion of the trip is overcome, and it will be memorable as the grandest achievement of the war. Any one who had seen the Pass before the expedition entered could never have supposed that a fleet of steamers could possibly pass thro' it. Soldiers and seamen were occupied at every turn, cutting down trees, clearing away rafts and drift wood, and otherwise making the channel water very deep. With a swift current and a course terribly crooked, there was a liability of boats being dashed to pieces against trees at every turn; but all is now safe.

We move forward again to-morrow morning. A battery is reported at the mouth of the Coldwater, twelve miles from here. Everybody is anxious to see it.

The health of the expedition is excellent. All are in fine spirits and confident.

We get all manner of reports of rebel preparations to receive us, but they are only the cause of laughter.

Lieut. Brown, of the Forest Rose, arrested while lying at Helena, has been reinstated by order of the Admiral. The charges against him were frivolous. He produced written orders for which his arrest was based.

The weather is very fine in this latitude. The sun shines rather too warm during the day. The water thus ar is good, and we anticipate but little trouble on this account. As the country is overflowed with recent rains, it will not become stagnant for some weeks yet.

Lieut. Commander Smith and Gen. Ross are making arrangements to keep communication open with the rear. Smith promises to patrol the streams with gunboats as high up as the pass and as low down as we go, if the army will furnish transports to run between us and Helena. The arrangement will probably be made.

COLDWATER RIVER, Miss., March 5, via Cairo, March 10.

Special to Chicago Times.—The expedition has advanced twenty miles since my last report.

The country is entirely destitute of population.

Nothing of the slightest importance has occurred with us yet. We receive nothing in the way of news, either from the front or rear. We hope to reach the Tallahatchie to-morrow, when we shall begin to make better progress.

The rams Lioness and Fulton have joined us.

Indications are that the enemy has filled the river with timber, mostly sycamore, which, sinking, only obstructs the bottom of the channel. A great rise in the river, caused by cutting the Mississippi levee, enables boats to pass over these obstructions without the slightest trouble.

To-Day's Report,

[Reported Exclusively for the Daily Gazette.]

MORNING DISPATCHES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11.

The steamer Moses Taylor sailed at four p. m. for Nicaraugua with 600 passengers.

The steamer Uncle Sam will sail to-morrow for Panama. Legal tenders unsettled, 60a68. The decision in the New Almanda case, the discovering company which has possessed and worked the mine 18 years, excites much discussion in judicial circles, and the policy of the government in setting afloat the litigation is regarded with disfavor. It is argued that if the government assumes to oust private companies, after their capital has developed and made quicksilver mining valuable, there is danger that California and Washoe gold and silver mining companies may be turned out of their lands whenever developed into value enough to excite cupidity.

News by the steamer City of Baltimore. —Accounts from the frontier of Poland to the 20th state that the Russian troops appear more inclined to fall back before the insurgents than to attack them. Warlike rumors still prevail. It is reported that a portion of the Lyons garrison has been ordered to the eastern frontier.

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 26.

Cotton quiet and unchanged. Breadstuffs flat but steady. Provisions dull.

LONDON, Feb. 26.

Consuls 97⅜. Illinois Central 41.

NEW YORK, March 11.

Times special states that a party of refugees who came into our lines, to-day, met Capt. Moseley with General Stoughton and other prisoners, on Monday, half way between Centerville and Culpeper en route for Richmond. It is reported that government contemplates the establishment here or at Annapolis of a camp of instruction for 100,000 men, an indication of a purpose to give vitality to the conscription law.

NEW YORK, March 12.

The Herald's special states that an expedition which started a few days ago to traverse the neck of land between the Rappahannock and Mataporney rivers, returned on Sunday to Falmouth. Topographical reconnoisances were made by Capt. Wilcox of Gen. Reynold's staff. All court houses on the neck, and all ferries on the Rappahannock for eight miles below our lines were visted. Another smuggling nest was broken up and the smugglers captured; also several rebel officers, and a valuable lot of medical stores and contraband goods, such as shoes, boots, caps, blankets, &c. A number of horses and mules were taken. Several boats engaged in carrying goods across the Rappahannock were destroyed. A large warehouse, filled with wheat and corn ready for transportation, was burned.

General Hooker has been busy, to day, with the President, secretary of war, Gen. Halleck and the committee on the conduct of the war. He returns to the army to-night.

NEW YORK, March 12.

The Tribune's dispatch states that private letters from London speak with alarm of the fleet which is in progress of construction in England and Scotland for the rebels. Our government is urged to demand in peremptory language that they be forbidden to sail on their errand of destruction to American commerce. A threat of open war being in the opinion of the writers a sure and only means of putting an end to these secret hostilities in high official circles.

World's dispatch.—A private letter from a well known naval officer, just received here, confirms the rebel report of the entire destruction of the Indianola.

A large number of refugees from Richmond came within our lines to-day. They represent that owing to vigorous conscription practices and famine all persons are coming north who are able to do so. They bring no rebel news from any quarter. There is no additional news in Richmond papers.

PHILADELPHIA, March 11.

The National Union Club was inaugurated at the Musical Fund Hall to-night. The house was crowded and minor meetings held outside. The main meeting was presided over by Geo. Curtiss, who delivered an eloquent speech. Resolutions appropriate to the occasion were unanimously adopted. Speeches were also made by Gov. Johnson, of Tenn., Ex-Gov. Wright, of Indiana, and others. Proceeding conducted with much enthusiasm.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

BALTIMORE, March 12.

Steamer Ericsson arrived this morning from Port Royal the 8th. The chief engineer Steiners, who was on the Passaic during the attack on McAllister, brings dispatches for the government. The Monitors are all back at Port Royal in good order. The bombardment lasted twenty hours, but boats could not get near enough to the fort to dismantle it. The distance was 1,400 yards. The British steamer Queen of the Waves is ashore near Charleston, her crew escaped. Admiral Dupont was trying to save her. The Ericsson saw the Quaker City board an English propeller, supposed to be a prize.

The movement on Charleston not yet commenced.

Charleston papers say that the Indianola and the Queen of the West are both in good condition. A rebel lieutenant, captured near Charleston, says that secret negotiations have been progressing for three weeks at Richmond, but the press is not allowed to mention it.

NEW YORK, March 12.

Flour quiet, 7,20a7,30. Wheat quiet, 1,40a1,61 for Chicago spring, 1,62a1,65 Mil. club. Pork quiet. Whisky 47a48c. Stocks active and better. Gold 59.

WASHINGTON, March 12.

Dispatches from Admiral Dupont mention the capture of the schooner Belle of Nassau off the coast of Georgia with a cargo of coffee and salt. She purported to be bound for Port Royal, but papers was found an agreement with the owner to un the blockade.

GEN. BANKS ON THE ARMY SLINKS.—Gen. Banks has just issued a new order—No. 18—which has the ring of the true metal in it. After pronouncing Second Lieut. Edward S. Berry, 156th New York, "dishonorably discharged" from the United States service, for resigning on the pretence of ill health, inability to perform military duty, and being opposed to the President's emancipation proclamation," he makes the following admirable remarks:

Hereafter, all officers who go out of their way to assign as a reason for their desiring to quit the service of their country in the face of the enemy, their disapproval of an act of the executive for which they are in no manner responsible, will be placed by their immediate officers in close arrest, and brought to trial before a general court martial, upon charges preferred under the fifth, sixth and ninety-ninth articles of war, for using contemptuous or disrespectful words against the President of the United States, for contempt or disrespect toward their commanding officer, and for conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline. The severest punishments awarded by the courts in such case will be rigidly enforced by the commanding general.

By command of MAJ. GEN. BANKS.

REBEL BARBARITIES IN EAST TENNESSEE.—Noticing the arrival at Nashville of some thirty refugees from East Tennessee and Cherokee county, North Carolina, the Union of the 3d inst., says:

They relate many revolting cruelties practiced by the rebel fiends in that fearfully oppressed region upon loyal citizens. They state that two companies of Cherokee Indians are acting as provost guard in Knoxville. These savages act in the most horrible manner. The rebel cavalry scour the country in squads, one Indian accompanying each party, in search of Union conscripts, who are endeavoring to flee the country. The rebel provost marshal has offered the Indians five dollars for every Union man they kill. A short time before the refugees fled, they saw a party of Indians coming in with a string of fourteen ears which they had cut from the bodies of dead Union men, this being the mode which they have adopted to count their victims. For each ear they received five dollars from the rebel commander! What punishment will be severe enough for these brutes? Terrible will be the vengeance which our army will wreak for all these crimes.

AN INCIDENT IN THE CARS.—In a car on a railroad which runs into New York city, a few mornings ago, a scene occurred which will not soon be forgotten by the witnesses of it. A person dressed as a gentleman, speaking to a friend across the car, said: "Well, I hope the war may last six months longer. If it does I shall have made enough to retire from business. In the last six months I've made a hundred thousand dollars—six months more and I shall have enough."

A lady sat behind the speaker, and necessarily heard his remark; but when he was done she tapped him on the shoulder, and said to him: "Sir, I had two sons—one of them was killed at the battle of Fredericksburg; the other was killed at the battle of Murfreesboro."

She was silent for a moment, and so were all around who heard her. Then, overcome by her indignation, she suddenly slapped the speculator, first on one cheek, then on the other, and before the fellow could say a word, the passengers sitting near, who had witnessed the whole affair, siezed him, and pushed him hurriedly out of the car, as one not fit to ride with decent people.

[Correspondence New York Tribune.]

HILTON HEAD, March 1, '63.

It will be remembered that eight months have elapsed since the Nashville managed to run the blockade, and find refuge in the waters that now close over her wreck. After discharging her cargo, she was first loaded with a thousand bales of cotton, in expectation of an egress as successful as her entrance. The keen watch, however, the blockaders kept over her movements, resulted in as many failures as she made attempts to escape to sea. Despairing of that venture, the rebels finally converted her into an armed vessel, with a view to her use for piratical purposes. In that character she appeared at the mouth of the Ogeechee river, under protection of the guns of Fort McAllister, some weeks ago.

The wooden blockading vessels, however, kept her at bay until the advent of the Montauk, upon whose appearance she incontinently retired beyond reach some miles up the Ogeechee. Here she lay until last Friday, when, emboldened no doubt by the Montauk's failure to demolish the fort, and taking advantage of a thick fog, she essayed again to find her way past the blockaders and out to sea. But what the enemy expected to serve as a means of his unobserved escape, was destined to prove the cause of her destruction. She got aground in the fog, within a short distance in range of the fort, and was discovered in that predicament from the Montauk. Capt. Worden at once proceeded to avail himself of the unexpected turn of good fortune that had placed the object of his long solicitation at his mercy.

After giving the orders required by the occasion to the wooden vessels, he stood promptly toward the rebel steamer. He ran his Monitor as close to the obstructions as practicable, and found himself able, to his great delight, to come within 1,200 yards of his prey. As soon as the Montauk had got in motion the fort opened a furious fire from all its guns. But her commander, without replying to it, steadily continued his course up to the obstructions. While the Montauk was steaming ahead, the wooden gunboats commenced engaging the fort, and under the diversion of the rebel fire courted by them, she brought her guns to bear upon the Nashville. The first two or three experimental shots missed the mark, but the proper range being obtained, she soon sent one after another of her 13-inch and 15-inch shells into the doomed steamer. The fourth shell, a 15-inch, burst in her and set her on fire. The flames spread rapidly, and speedily heated her guns so as to cause their charge to explode. Soon another shell went crashing through her side, penetrating to her powder magazine and causing a fearful explosion, that finished the work of destruction.

Such is the substance of Capt. Worden's official report to Admiral Dupont, brought here last night by the gunboat Wissahickon. Her officers represent the burning and blowing up of the Nashville to have been a sight grand beyond description. Let the praise so justly due for this brilliant success be equitably meted out to Admiral Dupont, who never for a moment since last summer forgot the importance of preventing the escape of the sunken steamer; to Captain Worden for the promptness with which he improved, and to the officers and men of the Seneca, Wissahickon, and the other blockading vessels, for the faithfulness with which they prepared the opportunity for the destruction of the rebel craft, that, but for these trusty public servants, might have become no less severe a scourge to our commerce than the Alabama.

THE GULF STREAM.—A letter describing a voyage to Europe says: While bounding along in the current of the gulf stream I could not help thanking God for that beneficent provision by which Northern Europe is made not only habitable but beautiful; and I thought also of the fact that Europe owes it to an American citizen that she has learned how to take commercial advantage of that wonderful river of the ocean. It is not Maury to whom we are indebted for the best part of our knowledge of this current of warm water. We owe the debt to Dr. Franklin; and it was Dr. Franklin also that taught the seamen of all countries how they could avail themselves of the advantages of this current in crossing the Atlantic, and then to leave it at points convenient to our New England and other Northern seaports. Before his day European commerce followed the stream from east to west, without daring to abandon it till it landed. This course carried the trade of the world, not to Boston or New York, or Philadelphia, but to Charleston. Charleston, therefore, at that period promised to be the great emporium of our continent. But Dr. Franklin, getting a hint or two from a fisherman, known as Capt. Folger, looked into the matter, and soon discovered that directly by the side of the gulf stream, and between it and the coast of North America, there is a current of cold water setting back from the north of Europe, starting in the neighborhood of Spitzbergen, and emptying into those very seas whence proceeds the stream that warms and fertilizes Europe. A ship had only, therefore, after enjoying the mellow weather of this noble stream till it had reached the neighborhood of some northern port, to start on and run into the cold water current, and so, in the roughest season of the year, reach Boston or New York with ease and comfort. It was the knowledge of the fact of these two currents and of the laws controlling them that transferred the commerce of Europe from the Southern to the Northern States. It is to Dr. Franklin, in a word, that your city, my brother editor, owes its pre-eminence as the commercial emporium of the western continent. There are not many of our countrymen who have known this fact; but they ought to know it; and New York ought to raise a monument to its great benefactor as high as it can make one rock stand upon another.

IS SORGHUM A PROFITABLE CROP.—A farmer gives his own experience as an answer to this question, in the Dodgeville Advocate as follows:

Let the facts speak for themselves. I have sold some of the molasses I had to spare at 60 cents per gallon, and there are some that prefer the sorghum molasses to molasses from the store at 75a85 cents per gallon. Now suppose that you have to give one third of the crop for working it up into syrup, besides finding wood for boiling out 120 gallons, the grower has 80 gallons for himself per acre, which reckoned at 60 cents per gallon, makes $47; deduct $1 for one cord of wood, and it leaves $46, which I shall call clear profit, because I consider the leaves and seed will more than pay all the expenses of planting, cleaning and stripping the cane ready for mill, in feed for either cattle or horses. I have fed both leaves and seed to my horses two seasons, and I believe that a bushel of seed is equal to a bushel of corn. I shall not boast of my molasses, though I might say we are well satisfied with it, and use it for all the purposes for which we formerly used sugar. In fact, southern made sugar around these parts, has got to be a thing we have read about, or very nearly so. And the time is not far distant, when we shall be able to make good sugar as well as molasses.

Large numbers of refugees from Southern Kentucky and Tennessee arrive in this city daily, having been compelled to abandon their homes, owing to the cruelties of their rebel oppressors. The New Albany Ledger says that 18 or 20 of these refugees passed over the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago railroad yesterday.—Louis. Jour.

A "Timber Hat."

Somewhere about the year 1780, so runs the tale, a travelling millwright—in those days the king of mechanics—foot sore, and with the broadest northern doric accent, stopped at Soho, a locality once indicative of field sports, but then the engine factory of Boulton & Watt, and asked for work. His aspect was little better than of "beggery and poor looks," and Mr. Boulton had bidden him God speed to some other work shop, when he was turning away sorrowfully, Mr. Boulton suddenly called him back and inquired:

"What kind of a hat have you on your head, my man?"

"It's just trimmer."

"Timber my man? Let's look at it. Where did you get it?"

"I just made it, sir, my ainsel."

"How did you make it?"

"I just turned it in the lathie."

"But it is oval, man, and a lathe turns things round."

"Aweel! I just gaur'd the laithe to gang anither gait to please me. I'd a long journey afore me, and I thocht I'd have a hat to keep out the water; and I had na muckle siller to spare and I just made ane."

By his inborn mechanism, the man had invented the oval lathe and made his hat, and the hat made his fortune. He became a distinguished machinist.

At North Paris, Maine, recently, Gilman Tuell was soliciting contributions for a poor widow, when he accepted a challenge to carry to her separately every ten cent bill that any one would give him. The game commenced at half-past three p. m., every person who visited the village store entering into the sport and furnishing ten cents, with which Mr. Tuell hied away to the widow's and returned for another contribution. In this way he was engaged, without stopping for refreshments, until 11 o'clock p. m., when, returning to the store, he found the door locked, his friends having given up the contest. He then turned laughingly homeward, having been to the widow's ninety one times, and traveled sixteen and one-half miles. He undoubtedly slept well that night.

DIED.

In this city, March 12th, Mrs. JULIA ROONEY, aged 45 years.

The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, at the residence of the deceased.

Forever float that standard sheet—
Where breathes the foe but falls before us?
With Freedom's soil beneath our feet,
And Freedom's banner streaming o'er us!

THE CANAL AT VICKSBURG.—The reports from Vicksburg are favorable to the success of the canal or cut-off, across the peninsula in front of that city. An immense amount of work has been done upon it, and it is nearly ready for trial. The canal is a mile and a third in length, sixty feet wide, and excavated to the depth of fifteen feet below the level of the Mississippi. Having reached the quicksand there is little doubt that when the water of the river is turned into the canal it will speedily become the main channel. The rebels have been anticipating its success, and have erected batteries opposite, at a place called Warrenton, which partially command the mouth of the canal. When the gunboats get through it is expected that the first business will be the reduction of these batteries, which will render those on the heights of Vicksburg valueless.

☞ The Milwaukee News is troubled in its spirit about a dreadful secret order for sustaining and perpetuating the Union, which it says is increasing rapidly in this state. While the Knights of the Golden Circle, was the only secret political society in existence, which has for its object the dissolution of the Union and the assassination of those who would preserve it, the News was silent; but now when it suspects the organization of a patriotic association it howls over its lawless and dangerous character. You are either very late in your objections, Mr. News, or else not very sincere.

LEGISLATIVE.—In the Senate on Wednesday bills were introduced making appropriations for the several benevolent institutions of the state, as follows: To the institute for the education of the blind, $14,000; hospital for the insane, $30,000; state reform school, $4,000.

In the Assembly resolutions were offered directing the treasurer to sell the gold in the treasury at not less than fifty per cent. It is rather singular that the gold has not already been disposed of; possibly some are waiting to take it [illegible] the session, when Sat. Clark's resolution to distribute it among the members at par will have a greater chance of passage. We do not find anything else in the proceedings worthy of notice.

☞ The Milwaukee News prepares its readers for a democratic defeat in New Hampshire in this way:

It can hardly be expected under such circumstances that the state has been redeemed, but by the grape vine telegraph we shall by degrees learn of large democratic gains.

The gains over the republican majority in 1860 will be in about the same proportion as the enlistments for the war. In New Hampshire, as elsewhere, the republicans volunteer to defend the country, and the democrats (with a few noble exceptions) stay at home to vote against supplies.

☞ The office of Sam. Medary's paper at Columbus was recently broken open and the furniture destroyed by a mob, whereupon his sympathizing friends held a great law and order meeting. At Detroit another democrat, of somewhat darker complexion, was mobbed, but no meeting in favor of law and order was held. Why is it not as necessary and proper to sustain the laws and promote order in Detroit as in Columbus?

☞ Fraser, the man who murdered his family at Buffalo, and then set fire to his house, which consumed their remains, has been heard of wandering through the country adjacent to that city, enquiring his way to his home, evidently insane. The police are searching for him, but as yet unsuccessful.

The nomination of B. E. Todd, a brother-in-law of the President, a brigadier general, was rejected by the senate. His relationship to the President was probably the only merit he possessed.

If "relationship" to some influential personage had been heretofore and should be hereafter desregarded in some other cases, there would a less number of incompetent officers in the service than there now are.

John Van Buren's speech in New York last week was the worst joke on himself he ever perpetrated. He came out as mottled as Dan. Rice's most funny horse. He was for the administration and against it. He was with the republicans and against them. If he knew where he stood, he knew decidedly more about it than his audience.—Milwaukee News.

Mr. Van Burem should have taken the copperhead chute to receive the commendation of the News.

MRS. POTTER.—The Wisconsin of yesterday says—"Mr. Potter passed through Racine with the remains of his wife last night, and she is to be interred at East Troy, on Friday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Staples, of this city, is to preach the funeral discourse. Judge Sloan, and other friends, accompanied Mr. Potter from Washington."

☞ It is believed in California that the French would take possession of Sonora within ninety days.

The New Postal Law.

The bill just passed by congress is understood to have been framed to meet the views of the postmaster general in its chief provisions. It makes some important changes in our postal system.

Postage on local or "drop letters" will hereafter be two cents, when not exceeding half an ounce, and an additional rate for each half ounce or fraction of an ounce in all cases to be pre-paid by postage stamps.

The regulations respecting soldiers' letters remain the same as heretofore.

The amendments of the house, establishing a money order system, was rejected in the senate and finally abandoned.

On all mail matter required by law to be pre-paid, and which shall reach its destination unpaid, double the usual rates must be collected on delivery, and insufficient payment is to be wholly disregarded.

The fee for the registration of letters is left optional with the postmaster general; but it is not to exceed twenty cents per letter.

Unsealed circulars, not exceeding three to one address, are to be charged with two cents postage, and in that proportion for a greater number.

NEWSPAPER POSTAGE.

Weekly papers five cents per quarter, semi-weekly ten cents, six times per week thirty cents. At this rate the weight must not exceed four ounces—in each case payable in advance per quarter or per year, either at the mailing or delivery office.

No extra charge is to be made for a card printed or imprest upon a circular or letter envelope or wrapper. Circulars to be prepaid by stamps.

The postmaster general may from time to time provide by order the rates and terms upon which route agents may receive and deliver, at the mail car or steamer, packages of newspapers and periodicals, delivered to them for that purpose, by the publishers or news agents in charge thereof, and not received from nor designed for delivery at any postoffice.

FRANKING.

Postmasters can only frank official letters to other officials—the former license to the smaller classes of offices heretofore enjoyed of franking on their own private business having been abolished, and not to go into effect until the 1st of July next.

COIN FOR FOREIGN LETTERS.

The joint resolution giving the postmaster general authority to collect the postage on unpaid foreign letters in specie was also passed.

The Federl Disaster near Fraklin Tennessee.

A correspondent of the Nashville Union gives the following account of the fight near Franklin Tennessee:

"After advancing four or five miles with some skirmishing, we encamped for night, resuming our advance on Thursday morning, the enemy resisting and falling back from our advance with considerable evidence of disorder. Our troops were in the highest possible spirits, and, up to this time, confident of success. So well did everthing go to all appearances, that a feeling of security overcame their vigilance, and led to the neglect of those precautions which should never be omited. When we reached Thompson's Station, we were suddenly and unexpectedly greeted with the thunder of three batteries from as many commanding heights, while at almost the same instant heavy masses of infantry appeared, as if by magic, on either flank.

"The natural result of this discovery was some confusion, but nevertheless our men showed the most determined courage, and boldly charged one of the rebel batteries. No infantry was seen near this battery until our men approached within a few yards of it, when the rebels rose from behind a [illegible], and from whence they poured a most deadly fire on our men, first checking and then driving them back, with heavy loss to us and little to themselves. On other parts of the field, however, the rebels lost severely; but, completely surrounded as our forces were by infantry, with three batteries of artillery disgorging their death dealing missiles full upon them, and no reasonable hopes of immediate reinforcements, it was not strange that they yielded to the 'inexorable logic of events,' and most of the 33d Indiana, 86th Indiana, 19th Michigan, 22d Wisconsin regiments, with their commissioned officers, are Van Dorn's prisoners. Our artillery was withdrawn without loss. Reinforcements were sent forward by Gen. Gilbert, but had not time to reach the ground to prevent the disaster. Stragglers continued to arrive until night, and many of the wounded have been brought in to day. The rebels, apparently satisfied with their achievement, fell back to Spring Hill."

Considerable danger seems to be apprehended by a portion of the community, from the movement of the enemy into the interior of Mississippi, via the Yazoo Pass, but we have heard a number of gentlemen, who profess to be well acquainted with the nature of the water courses that must be navigated, give it as their opinion that but little will be accomplished, except a disturbance, for a short time, of our collecting supplies in the country threatened.

The passage from the Mississippi to Moon Lake is two miles in length; thence on the lake to the mouth of the pass, nine miles; thence through the pass proper to Coldwater river, eighteen miles. The latter is narrow and deep, and some obstructions by falling timber had been made, and the work was progressing. The enemy's boats passed through the pass with their forces, a heavy land force marching on either side, and in advance of the boats. On Sunday morning the land forces reached the Coldwater, and it was expected the boats would arrive during the day. Our forces, engaged in adding to the obstructions, were driven back and compelled to abandon the work, and reached the mouth of the Coldwater on Sunday. The land forces of the enemy are estimated at eight or ten thousand.

We are confident that energetic steps have been taken to provide against the raid in this direction, but knowing the importance of repelling it, and the great disaster it would be to our arms in Mississippi if allowed to be successful, we urge the utmost exertions on the part of our leaders. The water is falling slowly, and the foe may be entrapped, when a sufficient force can bag the whole party.

NEW HAMPSHIRE DEMOCRACY.—"I declare myself a rebel. Slavery is right. It cannot be proved that slavery is a sin. Any physician could disprove this position. The fore-arm of negroes are four inches longer than a white man's. They never sprang from Adam. I am death, also, on ministers. They have preached the negro twenty-five years; but I have not heard them for ten years. No sinners have been converted in my town for ten years. (Cheers.)—Dr. Nat. Batchelder, of Epping, president of the first congressional district democratic convention.

"We are but little less than one thousand millions in debt. Can the people get along with this debt laid upon them? Will they pay it, or repudiate?"—Ex-Governor Steele, at a democratic convention.

"We will repudiate," was the response of the convention.

Last Night's Report.

CAIRO, March 11.

Special to Chicago Evening Journal.—For some time past liquor dealers at Mound City have been in the habit of enticing convalescent patients into their dens and fleecing them of their wages, also greatly retarding their recovery. A few days since Major Merrill made a descent upon them, capturing about $4,000 worth of various kinds of liquor, and assessing fines to the amount of $300.

The transport New National is taking aboard some very heavy ordnance for service to all below.

Capt. Gregory of the Little Rebel, has been transferred to the tin-clad gunboat Springfield. He is one of the very best fighting men in the Mississippi squadron. Lieut. Pinell, an efficient young officer, takes command of the Little Rebel.

The Gen. Price went below last night. She is now the most powerful ram afloat in the western waters; besides she carries a powerful battery.

We are assured by good authority that nothing important is transpiring below.

The steamer Mary Forsyth has arrived from Memphis, bring Monday evening's papers.

Gen. Hurlbut has issued an order, to take effect to-day, expelling all resigned officers from the lines.

We have news from Vicksburg to the 8th. The rebels come up almost every day with flags of truce, often for the most trivial pretexts. Their object doubtless is to keep posted on our movements. They tell a variety of stories about the Indianola. Some say she is sunk, and others report her all right.

The Vicksburg canal is nearly completed, and will be a complete success. Dredging machines are still at work. The rebels have one gun that can throw shells to the canal. Our men work and watch, and at each puff of smoke from the opposite side get out of the way. No one has yet been hurt. Water has not yet been let into the canal at Lake Providence.

COLDWATER RIVER, Miss., March 1, via CAIRO, March 10.

Special to Chicago Times.—The expedition left Moon Lake on Wednesday morning, reaching the end of the Pass yesterday noon, twelve miles in three days and a half. The boats are much broken in the light upper works, but not one damaged in the hull or machinery.

The most difficult portion of the trip is overcome, and it will be memorable as the grandest achievement of the war. Any one who had seen the Pass before the expedition entered could never have supposed that a fleet of steamers could possibly pass thro' it. Soldiers and seamen were occupied at every turn, cutting down trees, clearing away rafts and drift wood, and otherwise making the channel water very deep. With a swift current and a course terribly crooked, there was a liability of boats being dashed to pieces against trees at every turn; but all is now safe.

We move forward again to-morrow morning. A battery is reported at the mouth of the Coldwater, twelve miles from here. Everybody is anxious to see it.

The health of the expedition is excellent. All are in fine spirits and confident.

We get all manner of reports of rebel preparations to receive us, but they are only the cause of laughter.

Lieut. Brown, of the Forest Rose, arrested while lying at Helena, has been reinstated by order of the Admiral. The charges against him were frivolous. He produced [illegible] which his arrest was based.

The weather is very fine in this latitude. The sun shines rather too warm during the day. The water thus ar is good, and we anticipate but little trouble on this account. As the country is overflowed with recent rains, it will not become stagnant for some weeks yet.

Lieut. Commander Smith and Gen. Ross are making arrangements to keep communication open with the rear. Smith promises to patrol the streams with gunboats as high up as the pass and as low down as we go, if the army will furnish transports to run between us and Helena. The arrangement will probably be made.

COLDWATER RIVER, Miss., March 5, via CAIRO, March 10.

Special to Chicago Times.—The expedition has advanced twenty miles since my last report.

The country is entirely destitute of population.

Nothing of the slightest importance has occurred with us yet. We receive nothing in the way of news, either from the front or rear. We hope to reach the Tallahatchie to-morrow, when we shall begin to make better progress.

The rams Lioness and Fulton have joined us.

Indications are that the enemy has filled the river with timber, mostly sycamore, which, sinking, only obstructs the bottom of the channel. A great rise in the river, caused by cutting the Mississippi levee, enables boats to pass over these obstructions without the slightest trouble.

To-Day's Report.

(Reported Exclusively for the Daily Gazette.)

MORNING DISPATCHES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11.

The steamer Moses Taylor sailed at four p. m. for Nicaraugua with 600 passengers.

The steamer Uncle Sam will sail to-morrow for Panama. Legal tenders unsettled, 60a68. The decision in the New Almanda case, the discovering company which has possessed and worked the mine 18 years, excites much discussion in judicial circles, and the policy of the government in setting afloat the litigation is regarded with disfavor. It is argued that if the government assumes to oust private companies, after their capital has developed and made quicksilver mining valuable, there is danger that California and Washoe gold and silver mining companies may be turned out of their lands whenever developed into value enough to excite cupidity.

News by the steamer City of Baltimore.—Accounts from the frontier of Poland to the 20th state that the Russian troops appear more inclined to fall back before the insurgents than to attack them. Warlike rumors still prevail. It is reported that a portion of the Lyons garrison has been ordered to the eastern frontier.

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 26.

Cotton quiet and unchanged. Breadstuffs flat but steady. Provisions dull.

LONDON, Feb. 26.

NEW YORK, March 11.

Times special states that a party of refugees who came into our lines, to-day, met Capt. Moseley with General Stoughton and other prisoners, on Monday, half way between Centerville and Culpeper en route for Richmond. It is reported that government contemplates the establishment here or at Annapolis of a camp of instruction for 100,000 men, an indication of a purpose to give vitality to the conscription law.

NEW YORK, March 12.

The Herald's special states that an expedition which started a few days ago to traverse the neck of land between the Rappahannock and Mataporney rivers, returned on Sunday to Falmouth. Topographical reconnoisances were made by Capt. Wilcox of Gen. Reynold's staff. All court houses on the neck, and all ferries on the Rappahannock for eight miles below our lines were visted. Another smuggling nest was broken up and the smugglers captured; also several rebel officers, and a valuable lot of medical stores and contraband goods, such as shoes, boots, caps, blankets, &c. A number of horses and mules were taken. Several boats engaged in carrying goods across the Rappahannock were destroyed. A large warehouse, filled with wheat and corn ready for transportation, was burned.

General Hooker has been busy, to day, with the President, secretary of war, Gen. Halleck and the committee on the conduct of the war. He returns to the army to-night.

NEW YORK, March 12.

The Tribune's dispatch states that private letters from London speak with alarm of the fleet which is in progress of construction in England and Scotland for the rebels. Our government is urged to demand in peremptory language that they be forbidden to sail on their errand of destruction to American commerce. A threat of open war being in the opinion of the writers a sure and only means of putting an end to these secret hostilities in high official circles.

World's dispatch.—A private letter from a well known naval officer, just received here, confirms the rebel report of the entire destruction of the Indianola.

A large number of refugees from Richmond came within our lines to-day. They represent that owing to vigorous conscription practices and famine all persons are coming north who are able to do so. They bring no rebel news from any quarter. There is no additional news in Richmond papers.

PHILADELPHIA, March 11.

The National Union Club was inaugurated at the Musical Fund Hall to-night. The house was crowded and minor meetings held outside. The main meeting was presided over by Geo. Curtiss, who delivered an eloquent speech. Resolutions appropriate to the occasion were unanimously adopted. Speeches were also made by Gov. Johnson, of Tenn., Ex-Gov. Wright, of Indiana, and others. Proceeding conducted with much enthusiasm.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

BALTIMORE, March 12.

Steamer Ericsson arrived this morning from Port Royal the 8th. The chief engineer Steiners, who was on the Passaic during the attack on McAllister, brings dispatches for the government. The Monitors are all back at Port Royal in good order. The bombardment lasted twenty hours, but boats could not get near enough to the fort to dismantle it. The distance was 1,400 yards. The British steamer Queen of the Waves is ashore near Charleston, her crew escaped. Admiral Dupont was trying to save her. The Ericsson saw the Quaker City board an English propeller, supposed to be a prize.

The movement on Charleston not yet commenced.

Charleston papers say that the Indianola and the Queen of the West are both in good condition. A rebel lieutenant, captured near Charleston, says that secret negotiations have been progressing for three weeks at Richmond, but the press is not allowed to mention it.

NEW YORK, March 12.

Flour quiet, 7,20a7,30. Wheat quiet. 1,40a1,61 for Chicago spring, 1,62a1,65 Mil. club. Pork quiet. Whisky 47a48c. Stocks active and better. Gold 59.

WASHINGTON, March 12.

Dispatches from Admiral Dupont mention the capture of the schooner Belle of Nassau off the coast of Georgia with a cargo of coffee and salt. She purported to be bound for Port Royal, [illegible] papers was found an agreement with the owner to un the blockade.

GEN. BANKS ON THE ARMY SLINKS.—Gen. Banks has just issued a new order—No. 18—which has the ring of the true metal in it. After pronouncing Second Lieut. Edward S. Berry, 156th New York, "dishonorably discharged" from the United States service, for resigning on the pretence of ill health, inability to perform military duty, and being opposed to the President's emancipation proclamation," he makes the following admirable remarks:

Hereafter, all officers who go out of their way to assign as a reason for their desiring to quit the service of their country in the face of the enemy, their disapproval of an act of the executive for which they are in no manner responsible, will be placed by their immediate officers in close arrest, and brought to trial before a general court martial, upon charges preferred under the fifth, sixth and ninety-ninth articles of war, for using contemptuous or disrespectful words against the President of the United States, for contempt or disrespect toward their commanding officer, and for conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline. The severest punishments awarded by the courts in such case will be rigidly enforced by the commanding general.

By command of MAJ. GEN. BANKS.

REBEL BARBARITIES IN EAST TENNESSEE.—Noticing the arrival at Nashville of some thirty refugees from East Tennessee and Cherokee county, North Carolina, the Union of the 3d inst., says:

They relate many revolting cruelties practiced by the rebel fiends in that fearfully oppressed region upon loyal citizens. They state that two companies of Cherokee Indians are acting as provost guard in Knoxville. These savages act in the most horrible manner. The rebel cavalry scour the country in squads, one Indian accompanying each party, in search of Union conscripts, who are endeavoring to flee the country. The rebel provost marshal has offered the Indians five dollars for every Union man they kill. A short time before the refugees fled, they saw a party of Indians coming in with a string of fourteen ears which they had cut from the bodies of dead Union men, this being the mode which they have adopted to count their victims. For each ear they received five dollars from the rebel commander! What punishment will be severe enough for these brutes? Terrible will be the vengeance which our army will wreak for all these crimes.

AN INCIDENT IN THE CARS.—In a car on a railroad which runs into New York city, a few mornings ago, a scene occurred which will not soon be forgotten by the witnesses of it. A person dressed as a gentleman, speaking to a friend across the car, said: "Well, I hope the war may last six months longer. If it does I shall have made enough to retire from business. In the last six months I've made a hundred thousand dollars—six months more and I shall have enough."

A lady sat behind the speaker, and necessarily heard his remark; but when he was done she tapped him on the shoulder, and said to him: "Sir, I had two sons—one of them was killed at the battle of Fredericksburg; the other was killed at the battle of Murfreesboro."

She was silent for a moment, and so were all around who heard her. Then, overcome by her indignation, she suddenly slapped the speculator, first on one cheek, then on the other, and before the fellow could say a word, the passengers sitting near, who had witnessed the whole affair, siezed him, and pushed him hurriedly out of the car, as one not fit to ride with decent people.

[Correspondence New York Tribune.]

HILTON HEAD, March 1, '63.

It will be remembered that eight months have elapsed since the Nashville managed to run the blockade, and find refuge in the waters that now close over her wreck. After discharging her cargo, she was first loaded with a thousand bales of cotton, in expectation of an egress as successful as her entrance. The keen watch, however, the blockaders kept over her movements, resulted in as many failures as she made attempts to escape to sea. Despairing of that venture, the rebels finally converted her into an armed vessel, with a view to her use for piratical purposes. In that character she appeared at the mouth of the Ogeechee river, under protection of the guns of Fort McAllister, some weeks ago.

The wooden blockading vessels, however, kept her at bay until the advent of the Montauk, upon whose appearance she incontinently retired beyond reach some miles up the Ogeechee. Here she lay until last Friday, when, emboldened no doubt by the Montauk's failure to demolish the fort, and taking advantage of a thick fog, she essayed again to find her way past the blockaders and out to sea. But what the enemy expected to serve as a means of his unobserved escape, was destined to prove the cause of her destruction. She got aground in the fog, within a short distance in range of the fort, and was discovered in that predicament from the Montauk. Capt. Worden at once proceeded to avail himself of the unexpected turn of good fortune that had placed the object of his long solicitation at his mercy.

After giving the orders required by the occasion to the wooden vessels, he stood promptly toward the rebel steamer. He ran his Monitor as close to the obstructions as practicable, and found himself able, to his great delight, to come within 1,200 yards of his prey. As soon as the Montauk had got in motion the fort opened a furious fire from all its guns. But her commander, without replying to it, steadily continued his course up to the obstructions. While the Montauk was steaming ahead, the wooden gunboats commenced engaging the fort, and under the diversion of the rebel fire courted by them, she brought her guns to bear upon the Nashville. The first two or three experimental shots missed the mark, but the proper range being obtained, she soon sent one after another of her 13-inch and 15-inch shells into the doomed steamer. The fourth shell, a 15-inch, burst in her and set her on fire. The flames spread rapidly, and speedily heated her guns so as to cause their charge to explode. Soon another shell went crashing through her side, penetrating to her powder magazine and causing a fearful explosion, that finished the work of destruction.

Such is the substance of Capt. Worden's official report to Admiral Dupont, brought here last night by the gunboat Wissahickon. Her officers represent the burning and blowing up of the Nashville to have been a sight grand beyond description. Let the praise so justly due for this brilliant success be equitably meted out to Admiral Dupont, who never for a moment since last summer forgot the importance of preventing the escape of the sunken steamer; to Captain Worden for the promptness with which he improved, and to the officers and men of the Seneca, Wissahickon, and the other blockading vessels, for the faithfulness with which they prepared the opportunity for the destruction of the rebel craft, that, but for these trusty public servants, might have become no less severe a scourge to our commerce than the Alabama.

THE GULF STREAM.—A letter describing a voyage to Europe says: While bounding along in the current of the gulf stream I could not help thanking God for that beneficent provision by which Northern Europe is [illegible] but beautiful; and I thought also of the fact that Europe owes it to an American citizen that she has learned how to take commercial advantage of that wonderful river of the ocean. It is not Maury to whom we are indebted for the best part of our knowledge of this current of warm water. We owe the debt to Dr. Franklin; and it was Dr. Franklin also that taught the seamen of all countries how they could avail themselves of the advantages of this current in crossing the Atlantic, and then to leave it at points convenient to our New England and other Northern seaports. Before his day European commerce followed the stream from east to west, without daring to abandon it till it landed. This course carried the trade of the world, not to Boston or New York, or Philadelphia, but to Charleston. Charleston, therefore, at that period promised to be the great emporium of our continent. But Dr. Franklin, getting a hint or two from a fisherman, known as Capt. Folger, looked into the matter, and soon discovered that directly by the side of the gulf stream, and between it and the coast of North America, there is a current of cold water setting back from the north of Europe, starting in the neighborhood of Spitzbergen, and emptying into those very seas whence proceeds the stream that warms and fertilizes Europe. A ship had only, therefore, after enjoying the mellow weather of this noble stream till it had reached the neighborhood of some northern port, to start on and run into the cold water current, and so, in the roughest season of the year, reach Boston or New York with ease and comfort. It was the knowledge of the fact of these two currents and of the laws controlling them that transferred the commerce of Europe from the Southern to the Northern States. It is to Dr. Franklin, in a word, that your city, my brother editor, owes its pre-eminence as the commercial emporium of the western continent. There are not many of our countrymen who have known this fact; but they ought to know it; and New York ought to raise a monument to its great benefactor as high as it can make one rock stand upon another.

IS SORGHUM A PROFITABLE CROP.—A farmer gives his own experience as an answer to this question, in the Dodgeville Advocate as follows:

Let the facts speak for themselves. I have sold some of the molasses I had to spare at 60 cents per gallon, and there are some that prefer the sorghum molasses to molasses from the store at 75a85 cents per gallon. Now suppose that you have to give one third of the crop for working it up into syrup, besides finding wood for boiling out 120 gallons, the grower has 80 gallons for himself per acre, which reckoned at 60 cents per gallon, makes $47; deduct $1 for one cord of wood, and it leaves $46, which I shall call clear profit, because I consider the leaves and seed will more than pay all the expenses of planting, cleaning and stripping the cane ready for mill, in feed for either cattle or horses. I have fed both leaves and seed to my horses two seasons, and I believe that a bushel of seed is equal to a bushel of corn. I shall not boast of my molasses, though I might say we are well satisfied with it, and use it for all the purposes for which we formerly used sugar. In fact, southern made sugar around these parts, has got to be a thing we have read about, or very nearly so. And the time is not far distant, when we shall be able to make good sugar as well as molasses.

Large numbers of refugees from Southern Kentucky and Tennessee arrive in this city daily, having been compelled to abandon their homes, owing to the cruelties of their rebel oppressors. The New Albany Ledger says that 18 or 20 of these refugees passed over the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago railroad yesterday.—Louis. Jour.

A "Timber Hat."

Somewhere about the year 1780, so runs the tale, a traveling millwright—in those days the king of mechanics—foot sore, and with the broadest northern doric accent, stopped at Soho, a locality once indicative of field sports, but then the engine factory of Boulton & Watt, and asked for work. His aspect was little better than of "beggery and poor looks," and Mr. Boulton had bidden him God speed to some other work shop, when he was turning away sorrowfully, Mr. Boulton suddenly called him back and inquired:

"What kind of a hat have you on your head, my man?"

"It's just trimmer."

"Timber my man? Let's look at it. Where did you get it?"

"I just made it, sir, my ainsel."

"How did you make it?"

"I just turned it in the lathie."

"But it is oval, man, and a lathe turns things round."

"Aweal! I just gaur'd the laithe to gang anither gait to please me. I'd a long journey afore me, and I thocht I'd have a hat to keep out the water; and I had na muckle siller to spare and I just made ane."

By his inborn mechanism, the man had invented the oval lathe and made his hat, and the hat made his fortune. He became a distinguished machinist.

At North Paris, Maine, recently, Gilman Tuell was soliciting contributions for a poor widow, when he accepted a challenge to carry to her separately every ten cent bill that any one would give him. The game commenced at half-past three p. m., every person who visited the village store entering into the sport and furnishing ten cents, with which Mr. Tuell hied away to the widow's and returned for another contribution. In this way he was engaged, without stopping for refreshments, until 11 o'clock p. m., when, returning to the store, he found the door locked, his friends having given up the contest. He then turned laughingly homeward, having been to the widow's ninety one times, and traveled sixteen and one-half miles. He undoubtedly slept well that night.

DIED.

In this city, March 12th, Mrs. JULIA ROONEY, aged 45 years.

The funeral will take place at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, at the residence of the deceased.

Letter from the Twenty-Second Regiment.

WRITTEN WHILE THE FIGHT WAS PROGRESSING NEAR FRANKLIN.

The following is an extract from a letter written by B. R. Hilt, of company E, to his wife in this city:

FRANKLIN, Tenn., March 5th.

While I am writing there is heavy fighting on our front, four miles from here. We can hear the heavy booming of the guns. A large force of our men left here, yesterday, I suppose to advance on Columbia, 23 miles south of here. Eight companies of our regiment have gone—two of them were left at Brentwood to guard the bridge.

When our forces got three miles from us the rebels attacked them. Our men gallantly drove them pell mell. Nothing, however, but the cavalry and the 18th Ohio battery was engaged. What is going on to-day, the 5th, I cannot tell, but from the incessant roar of guns I should think it is terrible. I have no fears in regard to its termination. Our men will have victory or death; may God be on our side, and aid us in our cause, for it is just. Company E is not there; they are at the bridge, and also company F. The only man who is there from company E is Charles Mansfield.

As I write the battle rages; faster and thicker grows the fight. They have been at it for three hours. In my next I will tell you all. I pray that victory may perch on our glorious Stripes and Stars. I am all excitement! I would that I were there to aid my brethren. You cannot imagine our feelings. We are eager for the fray, but orders must be obeyed.

I here stopped writing and went to the pontoon bridge, which crosses the Big Harpeth near this point, but the guards would not let us cross, without a pass.—Perhaps it is all for the best. We can now hear the infantry firing. It is very heavy. God only knows how many have bit the dust. I hope none.

It is now four o'clock and the battle still continues. A messenger has just come for catridges. Our men took sixty rounds apiece when they started, so they must have been engaged with the rebels. The boys are brave and determined. Perhaps before I send this I can tell you more about it.—If I cannot I will send news as soon as I get it.

My dear wife dont be alarmed for me. I am all safe, so far. Take heart; this war will soon end; then I hope to come to you, my dear family, conscious of having done my whole duty to my country.

BENJ. R. HILT.

FOR NASHVILLE.—Mr. J. M. Burgess will leave for Nashville, Tenn., to-morrow afternoon, at one o'clock, in charge of hospital stores for the army. He will receive and deliver small packages, money, or letters entrusted to him.

THE FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE.—The Farmers' Advocate says: This favorite with the ladies, that was only introduced the past year, seems to be gaining in reputation, as its sale increases. The agency in this city have not been able to fill all the orders they have received up to this time, but we are informed that their arrangements are now perfected so that they can fill their largely increased orders. We know whereof we write when we say that the "Florence" performs all that is claimed for it, as we have had one in our family the past year, and our "better half" regards it as one of the indispensables in the household economy.

Without saying anything in disparagement of any other sewer, we can speak in commendation of the "Florence." It is an excellent family machine and easily managed. Mrs. D. O. Raynor of this city is the local agent for this city.

BUFFALO ROBE LOST—Last night between Dr. Bailey's residence and the Hyatt House. Inquire for the owner at Barrows' Seed Store.

PACKAGES FOR SOLDIERS.—We are informed that the American Express Company, in connection with Adams' Express, now deliver packages to any regiment in the army of the Potomac.

A PROMPT AND A GOOD WORK.—The people of the village of Prairie du Sac, Sauk county, in the course of six hours, without previous notice, contributed over a ton of edibles for company K, 23d regiment, consisting in part of over 300 pounds of dried fruits, jellies, &c., two barrels of onions and six barrels of potatoes.

SPECIAL MEETING.—A special meeting of Rescue Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1, will be held at their hall this evening, at 7 o'clock. All members are requested to be present, as business of importance will be transacted. B. BORNHEIM, Sec'y.

JANESVILLE, March 12th.

There will be a free lunch given at the City Restaurant, in the basement of the Exchange block, West Milwaukee street, at nine o'clock this evening.

Lyon's Kathairon.

This delightful article for preserving and beautifying the human hair is again put up by the original proprietor, and is now made with the same care, skill and attention, which first created its immense and unprecedented sales of over one million bottles annually. It is still sold at 25 cents in large bottles. Two million bottles can easily be sold in a year when it is again known that the Kathairon is not only the most delightful hair dressing in the world, but that it cleanses the scalp of scurf and dandruff, gives the hair a lively rich luxuriant growth, and prevents it from turning gray. These are considerations worth knowing. The Kathairon has been tested for over twelve years, and is warranted as described. Any lady who values a beautiful head of hair will use the Kathairon. It is finely perfumed, cheap and valuable. It is sold by all respectable dealers throughout the world.

48 doz shirt buttons for	25c

The facilities we possess for carrying on our

ENORMOUS BUSINESS

are unsurpassed. We have one of the best

Arranged and most Commodious Stores in the state; and a resident buyer in New York in addition to E. McKey, who spends nearly all his time there, which enables us to that offers, whether at auction, private or bankrupt sale. Our European connection is under the superintendence of M. F. McKey, who spent four months there last fall, and will again proceed thither next spring.

It is needless to expatiate on the immensity of our resources; we will merely state that all our goods are

BOUGHT FOR CASH.

It is conceded by all that we do the Largest Dry Goods Business

in the state; our sales during the past year in our various stores ammounting in the aggregate to the handsome total of $350,000—

Three Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars!!!

This we have achieved by doing our business on the go ahead, Young America principle of

Selling Cheap

and knocking the spots off all the old foggy and fossil remains of merchants that ever presumed to compete with us. And this, for the

BENEFIT OF THE PEOPLE,

we shall continue to do at our

Letter from the Twenty-Second Regiment.

WRITTEN WHILE THE FIGHT WAS PROGRESSING NEAR FRANKLIN.

The following is an extract from a letter written by B. R. Hilt, of company E, to his wife in this city:

FRANKLIN, Tenn., March 5th.

While I am writing there is heavy fighting on our front, four miles from here. We can hear the heavy booming of the guns. A large force of our men left here, yesterday, I suppose to advance on Columbia, 23 miles south of here. Eight companies of our regiment have gone—two of them were left at Brentwood to guard the bridge.

When our forces got three miles from us the rebels attacked them. Our men gallantly drove them pell mell. Nothing, however, but the cavalry and the 18th Ohio battery was engaged. What is going on to-day, the 5th, I cannot tell, but from the incessant roar of guns I should think it is terrible. I have no fears in regard to its termination. Our men will have victory or death; may God be on our side, and aid us in our cause, for it is just. Company E is not there; they are at the bridge, and also company F. The only man who is there from company E is Charles Mansfield.

As I write the battle rages; faster and thicker grows the fight. They have been at it for three hours. In my next I will tell you all. I pray that victory may perch on our glorious Stripes and Stars. I am all excitement! I would that I were there to aid my brethren. You cannot imagine our feelings. We are eager for the fray, but orders must be obeyed.

I here stopped writing and went to the pontoon bridge, which crosses the Big Harpeth near this point, but the guards would not let us cross, without a pass.—Perhaps it is all for the best. We can now hear the infantry firing. It is very heavy. God only knows how many have bit the dust. I hope none.

It is now four o'clock and the battle still continues. A messenger has just come for catridges. Our men took sixty rounds apiece when they started, so they must have been engaged with the rebels. The boys are brave and determined. Perhaps before I send this I can tell you more about it.—If I cannot I will send news as soon as I get it.

My dear wife dont be alarmed for me. I am all safe, so far. Take heart; this war will soon end; then I hope to come to you, my dear family, conscious of having done my whole duty to my country.

BENJ. R. HILT.

FOR NASHVILLE.—Mr. J. M. Burgess, will leave for Nashville, Tenn., to-morrow afternoon, at one o'clock, in charge of hospital stores for the army. He will receive and deliver small packages, money, or letters entrusted to him.

THE FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE.—The Farmers' Advocate says: This favorite with the ladies, that was only introduced the past year, seems to be gaining in reputation, as its sale increases. The agency in this city have not been able to fill all the orders they have received up to this time, but we are informed that their arrangements are now perfected so that they can fill their largely increased orders. We know whereof we write when we say that the "Florence" performs all that is claimed for it, as we have had one in our family the past year, and our "better half" regards it as one of the indispensables in the household economy.

Without saying anything in disparagement of any other sewer, we can speak in commendation of the "Florence." It is an excellent family machine and easily managed. Mrs. D. O. Raynor of this city is the local agent for this city.

BUFFALO ROBE LOST—Last night between Dr. Bailey's residence and the Hyatt House. Inquire for the owner at Barrows' Seed Store.

PACKAGES FOR SOLDIERS.—We are informed that the American Express Company, in connection with Adams' Express, now deliver packages to any regiment in the army of the Potomac.

A PROMPT AND A GOOD WORK.—The people of the village of Prairie du Sac, Sauk county, in the course of six hours, without previous notice, contributed over a ton of edibles for company K, 23d regiment, consisting in part of over 308 pounds of dried fruits, jellies, &c., two barrels of onions and six barrels of potatoes.

SPECIAL MEETING.—A special meeting of Rescue Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1, will be held at their hall this evening, at 7 o'clock. All members are requested to be be present, as business of importance will be transacted. B. BORNHEIM, Sec'y.

JANESVILLE, March 12th.

There will be a free lunch given at the City Restaurant, in the basement of the Exchange block, West Milwaukee street, at nine o'clock this evening.

A very facinating young man has just been arrested in Brooklyn, New York, for burglary. He mingled in the best society, wore the nicest clothes, and was very much beloved. It took him only three months to steal $40,000 worth of property.

A COUGH, COLD, OR AN IRRITATED THROAT if allowed to progress, results in serious Pulmonary and Bronchial affections, oftentimes incurable.

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES reach directly the affected parts and give almost instant relief. In BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA, and CATARRH they are beneficial. The good effects resulting from the use of the Troches, and their extended use, has caused them to be counterfeited. Be sure to guard against worthless imitations. OBTAIN only the genuine Brown's Bronchial Troches which have proved their efficacy by a test of many years. PUBLIC SPEAKERS and SINGERS should use the Troches. Military Officers and Soldiers who over-tax the voice and are exposed to sudden changes, should have them. Sold everywhere at 25 cents per box. ja21daw3m

Lyon's Kathairon.

This delightful article for preserving and beautifying the human hair is again put up by the original proprietor, and is now made with the same care, skill and attention, which first created its immense and unprecedented sales of over one million bottles annually! It is still sold at 25 cents in large bottles. Two million bottles can easily be sold in a year when it is again known that the Kathairon is not only the most delightful hair dressing in the world, but that it cleanses the scalp of scurf and dandruff, gives the hair a lively rich luxuriant growth, and prevents it from turning grey. These are considerations worth knowing. The Kathairon has been tested for over twelve years, and is warranted as described. Any lady who values a beautiful head of hair will use the Kathairon. It is finely perfumed, cheap and valuable. It is sold by all respectable dealers throughout the world.

The facilities we possess for carrying on our

are unsurpassed. We have one of the best

Arranged and most Commodious Stores

n the state: and a resident buyer in New York in addition to E. McKey, who spends nearly all his time there, which enables us to that offers, whether at auction, private or bankrupt sale. Our European connection is under the superintendence of M. F. McKey, who spent four months there last fall, and will again proceed thither next spring.

It is needless to expatiate on the immensity of our resources; we will merely state that all our goods are

BOUGHT FOR CASH.

It is conceded by all that we do the

Largest Dry Goods Business

in the state; our sales during the past year in our various stores ammounting in the aggregate to the handsome total of $250,000—

Three Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars!!!

This we have achieved by doing our business on the go ahead, Young America principle of

Selling Cheap

and knocking the spots off all the old foggy and fossil remains of merchants that ever presumed to compete with us. And this, for the

BENEFIT OF THE PEOPLE,

we shall continue to do at our

HENRY PILCHER,

Organ Builder,

HAVING located himself in Janesville, respectfully solicits orders for Church and Parlor Organs of every description. He will also give attention to the

Organs, Pianos and Melodeons,

in the city or any part of the state. His long experience in St. Louis enables him to guarantee entire satisfaction to all who may favor him with their patronage.

Orders may be left at Wilson's music store, Lappin's Block, with Mr. F. W. London, east side of Hyatt House, or at the residence on Court Street, lately occupied by H. Jackman, esq.

I cheerfully recommend Mr. Henry Pilcher as a workman of long experience and established reputation, and solicit for him the patronage of the public in his line of business.

ROCK RIVER IRON WORKS
THRESHING MACHINES.
LOOK WELL AT THE FOLLOWING POINTS IN THESE MACHINES.
1st. The Large Shoe and Seives,
2d. The long carrier rake and the great speed with which it runs, spreading the straw thinner as it leaves the apron or grain belt, and thereby giving the grain more chance to fall through, and not be carried over in the straw.
3d. The ease with which it can be removed for storage, or left on permanently; as in other Machines, being held by swivel braces from the sill.
4th. The strong and heavy gearing in the jack.
5th. The pulleys are all covered with leather to prevent slipping and wearing of belts.
6th. The covers on all the oil cups of the boxes.
7th. The cloth used in the aprons.
8th. The nine bars in the cylinder, with teeth made of the best quality of iron, made expressly for the purpose.
9th. Observe the trucks, and examine the workmanship and finish of the whole machine.
10th. These machines are furnished with the best kind of leather belting (or rubber if preferred), and are fully warranted in every respect.
We have still a few left, and in view of the poor crops and hard times, will sell them on easy terms.

COUNTY COURT OF ROCK COUNTY.
In the matter of the estate of John Doyle, deceased.
ON reading and filing the petition of Thomas Thorp, the administrator of the estate of said deceased, setting forth the amount of personal estate that has come to his hands and the disposition thereof, the amount of debts outstanding against said deceased and a description of all the real estate of which said deceased died seized and the condition and value of the respective portions thereof, and praying that license may be granted to him to sell so much of the said real estate as may be necessary to pay the debts of said deceased, the costs of administration and the expenses of the funeral and last sickness of said deceased; and it appearing by said petition that there is not sufficient personal estate in the hands of said administrator to pay said debts and said costs and expenses, and that it is necessary in order to pay the same to sell part of said real estate, it is therefore ordered that all persons interested in said estate appear before this court at the office of the judge thereof, in the city of Janesville, in said county, on the first Monday of February next, at ten o'clock A M, then and there to show cause why license should not be granted to said administrator to mortgage, lease or sell so much of said real estate as shall be necessary to pay said debts and expenses, and that a copy of this order shall be personally served on all persons interested in said estate residing in the said county at least fourteen days prior to said hearing, and shall be published four successive weeks prior to said day, in the Weekly Gazette and Free Press, a weekly paper published in said city. By the court,
AMOS P. PRICHARD, County Judge.

GREAT REDUCTION IN
The Prices
—OF—
SINGER & CO.'S
STANDARD MACHINES
Well known to be the best for
Manufacturing Purposes:
No. 1, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $90,
Reduced to $70.
No. 2, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $100,
Reduced to $70.
Singer's Letter A Machine,
IS the best Machine in the world for Family Sewing and Light Manufacturing purposes; Price, (with Hemmer,) and beautifully ornamented,
FIFTY DOLLARS.
The Nos. 1 and 2 machines are of great capacity and application for manufacturing purposes.
Our No. 3 machines are especially adapted to all kinds of light and heavy
LEATHER WORK,
in Carriage Trimming, Boot and Shoe Making, Harness Making, etc., etc. They are of extra size, with an arm long enough to take under it and stitch the largest sized dashes. There is scarcely any part of a Trimmers' stitching that cannot be better done with them than by hand; so, too, the saving of time and labor is very great. The table under these machines is 24 inches long, and the shuttle will hold six times the usual quantity of thread. The large machines work as fast as small ones.
We would ask for our Letter A machines, the special attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want machines for Light Manufacturing purposes. They embody the principles of the standard machines, making like them, the interlock stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for Family Sewing and light manufacturing purposes as our standard machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.
We have always on hand
Hemming Guages, Silk Twist, Linen and Cotton Thread on Spools, Best Machine Oil in Bottles, etc., etc.
We manufacture our own Needles, and would warn all persons using our machines not to buy any others. We know that there are needles sold of the most inferior quality, at higher prices than we charge for the best. The needles sold by us are manufactured especially for our machines. A bad needle may render the best machine almost useless.
Our customers may rest assured that all our Branch Offices are furnished with the
GENUINE ARTICLE.
In case of small purchases, the money may be sent in postage stamps or bank notes.
Correspondents will please write their names distinctly. It is all important that we should in each case know the post office, county and state.
All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their size, prices, working capacities, and the best methods of purchasing, can obtain it by sending to us, or any of our Branch Offices for a copy of
I. M. SINGER & CO.'S GAZETTE,
which is a beautifully illustrated Pictorial Paper. It will be sent Gratis
We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the two-fold view of benefitting the public and ourselves. The public have been swindled by spurious machines made in imitation of ours. The metal in them, from the iron casting to the smallest piece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive manufacturing establishments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, badly made, are always liable to get out of order, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair.
The qualities to be looked for in a machine are: certainty of correct action at all rates of speed, simplicity of construction, great durability and rapidity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this.
The purchasers of machines, whose daily bread it may concern, will find that those having the above qualities not only work well at rapid as well as slow rates of speed, but last long in the finest possible working order. Our machines, as made by us, will earn more money with less labor than any others, whether in imitation of ours or not. In fact, they are cheaper than any other machine as a gift.

COUNTY COURT OF ROCK COUNTY.

In the matter of the estate of John Doyle, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Thomas Thorp, the administrator of the estate of said deceased, setting forth the amount of personal estate that has come to his hands and the disposition thereof, the amount of debts outstanding against said deceased and a description of all the real estate of which said deceased died seized and the condition and value of the respective portions thereof, and praying that license may be granted to him to sell so much of the said real estate as may be necessary to pay the debts of said deceased, the costs of administration and the expenses of the funeral and last sickness of said deceased: and it appearing by said petition that there is not sufficient personal estate in the hands of said administrator to pay said debts and said costs and expenses, and that it is necessary in order to pay the same to sell part of said real estate, it is therefore ordered that all persons interested in said estate appear before this court at the office of the judge thereof, in the city of Janesville, in said county, on the first Monday of February next, at ten o'clock A M, then and there to show cause why license should not be granted to said administrator to mortgage, lease or sell so much of said real estate as shall be necessary to pay said debts and expenses, and that a copy of this order shall be personally served on all persons interested in said estate residing in the said county at least fourteen days prior to said hearing, and shall be published four successive weeks prior to said day, in the Weekly Gazette and Free Press, a weekly paper published in said city. GREAT REDUCTION

—IN—

The Prices

—OF—

SINGER & CO.'S

STANDARD MACHINES

Well known to be the best for

Manufacturing Purposes:

No. 1, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $90,

Reduced to $70.

No. 2, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $100,

Reduced to $70.

Singer's Letter A Machine,

Is the best Machine in the word for Family Sewing and Light Manufacturing purposes; Price, (with Hemmer,) and beautifully ornamented,

FIFTY DOLLARS.

The Nos. 1 and 2 machines are of great capacity and application for manufacturing purposes.

Our No. 3 machines are especially adapted to all kinds of light and heavy

in Carriage Trimming, Boot and Shoe Making, Harness Making, etc., etc. They are of extra size, with an arm long enough to take under it and stitch the largest sized dashes. There is scarcely any part of a Trimmers' stitching that cannot be better done with them than by hand; so, too, the saving of time and labor is very great. The table under these machines is 24 inches long, and the shuttle will hold six times the usual quantity of thread. The large machines work as fast as small ones.

We would ask for our Letter A machines, the special attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want machines for Light Manufacturing purposes. They embody the principles of the standard machines, making like them, the interlock stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for Family Sewing and light manufacturing purposes as our standard machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

We have always on hand

Hemming Guages, Silk Twist, Linen and Cotton Thread on Spools, Best Machine Oil in Bottles, etc., etc.

We manufacture our own Needles, and would warn all persons using our machines not to buy any others. We know that there are needles sold of the most inferior quality, at higher prices than we charge for the best. The needles sold by us are manufactured especially for our machines. A bad needle may render the best machine almost useless.

Our customers may rest assured that all our Branch Offices are furnished with the

GENUINE ARTICLE.

In case of small purchases, the money may be sent in postage stamps or bank notes.

☞ Correspondents will please write their names distinctly. It is all important that we should in each case know the post office, county and state.

☞ All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their size, prices, working capacities, and the best methods of purchasing, can obtain it by sending to us, or any of our Branch Offices for a copy of,

I. M. SINGER & CO.'S GAZETTE,

which is a beautifully illustrated Pictorial Paper. It will be sent Gratis

☞ We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the two-fold view of benefitting the public and ourselves. The public have been swindled by spurious machines made in imitation of ours. The metal in them, from the iron casting to the smallest piece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive manufacturing establishments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, Badly Made, are always liable to get out of order, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair.

The qualities to be looked for in a machine are: certainty of correct action at all rates of speed, simplicity of construction, great durability and rapidity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this.

The purchasers of machines, whose daily bread it may concern, will find that those having the above qualities not only work well at rapid as well as slow rates of speed, but last long in the finest possible working order. Our machines, as made by us, will earn more money with less labor than any others, whether in imitation of ours or not. In fact, they are cheaper than any other machine as a gift.
